Hidden gems around Asia
ideal for adventurous newlyweds

Interested in a holiday but don't want to travel far? Here is a list of some of the hidden gems of Asia that offer a great alternative to the more traditional luxury chain hotel setting but allows authentic interactions with locals. Intimate in size, with most properties being less than five rooms, you are able to benefit from a more tailor-made experience.

Belonging to a bespoke brand called Secret Retreats, these boutique resorts represent cultured individuals whose taste, sense of refinement, simplicity and hospitality is reflected in the unique properties that they created.
